

first name	last name	company	present?	Pledge
Jamie	Sadler	Food Nation	no
sarah	cowling	HealthWORKS Newcastle	yes	continue to raise awareness of the role of health trainers as 'health navigators'
Chris	Drinkwater	HealthWORKS Newcastle	yes	further development of linworker role as part of 'ways to wellness'
Jo	Protheroe	Keele University	yes	to make sure that I check with my patients that information/advice is understood and give opportunities to ask questions
Gillian	Rowlands	King's College London	yes	integrate checkback into every day practice
Jill	Bauld	Newcastle city council	yes	through my new role as SEND project manager ensure that everything we do/produce takes into account literacy levels so that information/involvement is effective
Paul	Brownlee	Newcastle city council	yes	ensure that health literacy is included in the new teenage pregnancy action plan laura	choake	Newcastle city council	yes	use plain, consistent english. Make health/wellbeing messages audience appropriate
Valerie	Corris	Newcastle City Council	yes
Rowenna	Foggie	Newcastle City Council	yes	encourage the use of health materials as a basis of ESOL learning michelle	gill	Newcastle City Council	yes	speak to care at home re health literacy of staff
Fiona	Hill	Newcastle city council	yes	consider health literacy within my workplace and job role in libraries including health checks and information in libraries
Claire	Horton	Newcastle City Council	yes	to contribute towards ensuring that information to prevent and respond to financial and housing related crisis is as simple, useful and accessible as possible
Julie	Imhoof	Newcastle City Council	yes	introduce health literacy app for employees to take an online learning course
Karen	Inglis	Newcastle City Council	yes	build considerations literacy for wellbeing in asset based practice training. As way to build awareness of professionals
Liz	Jackson	Newcastle City Council	yes	through team meetings help our colleagues in the communities services to understand health literacy and potential barriers residents face through lack of understanding of health messages
Louise	Lane	Newcastle City Council	yes	consider health literacy within commissioned services and building health literacy of care and support workforce
will	mapplebeck	Newcastle City Council	apols
Anthony	McKenna	Newcastle City Council	yes	I will read a red top paper next week to understand how they use simple words to tell a story
Carol	Moore	Newcastle City Council	yes	I can weave health literacy into the whole system, whole community concept for prevention - consistent and simple messages to access self help and other services, specifically around data sharing
Lauren	Patterson	Newcastle City Council	yes	talk about health more with colleagues, families and friends to check understanding and their health literacy
Fiona	Richardson	Newcastle City Council	part
Liz	Robinson	Newcastle City Council	yes	I will use my initial learning on health literacy in future health campaigns that I am involved in and the materials I use

first name	last name	company	present?	Pledge
Helen	Robinson	Newcastle City Council	yes	to actively consider health literacy in the development of social marketing information for services/programmes
Ruth	Rogan	Newcastle City Council	part
Dawn	Scott	Newcastle City Council	yes	within the public health social marketing work - ensure health literacy is seen as a specific focus of attention. Highlight, challenge and action team through specific audiences and always represent information back to same specific audience
Lynda	Seery	Newcastle City Council	yes	pledge to include in future plans the ability of frontline staff to share health messages and to listen to service users effectively - checking back
Paul	Staines	Newcastle City Council	yes	think about testing local health literacy as part of the health bus project
Ewen	Weir	Newcastle City Council	apols
Colin	Williams	Newcastle City Council	apols
Veronica	Dunn	Newcastle City Council - elected member	yes	spread the word. Need to embed health across council. Set up challenges
Jane	Streather	Newcastle City Council - elected member	part
Andy	Roberts	Newcastle city council joint with CCG	yes	promote health literacy through PHSE in schools via the school nurses
Helen	Wilding	Newcastle city council joint with CCG	yes
Clare	Bethell	Newcastle upon Tyne Hospitals	yes	find out what is happening in the hospitals trust re health literacy and get involved
Margaret	King	Newcastle upon Tyne Hospitals	yes	everyone in my services to give consistent messages regarding the services - what the services can offer, what is expected from the clients and what they can expect from us
Bev	Reid	Newcastle upon Tyne Hospitals	no
Jeff	Hurst	Newcastle upon Tyne YMCA	yes	to use my position on the Wellbeing for life board to identify resources to raise health literacy standards of providers
Jackie	Cairns	Newcastle West CCG	yes
Guy	Pilkington	Newcastle West CCG	part
Avril	Gibson	Northern Learning Trust	yes	identify key person in Walker Health centre to discuss some joint work
Margaret	Rowe	Northumbria University	yes
Barbara	Douglas	Quality of Life Partnership	yes	explore health literacy with the first contact group. Not sure how to go about this - will need some help! Think about how to introduce health/wellbeing literacy within older people's groups - could be part of our 'pass it on/bridging the gaps' programme
Anne	Bonner	Riverside Community Health Project	apols
Maurice	Condie	Tyne Housing	yes	train all staff to communicate health issues clearly